Hi Pamela,

The manual I sent you was produced in early 1999, for our very first shipment on March, 31 1999. It was probably produced before 2-15-99, but doesn't have a specific date.

Have a great day,

Lisa

Lisa

We received the TIVO manual for HDR110. Thank you so much. I noticed it has a 1999 copyright date was this released before or after Feb. 15 1999?

Will you be sending us an earlier dated manual?

Thanks

Pamela,

I have inquired within the company about your question. I received the following answer:

Laurie;

First shipments of TiVo product was the HDR 110 unit which was about September 1999. The User Manual for these Units would most likely have been produced around June 1999. We have a HDR User Manual that has a copyright date of 1999, but not date prior to 2-15-99.

The only person who might have the information would be TiVo.
Rick

I suggest that you contact Tivo directly because there were probably other manufacturers before Philips, maybe even Sony. I believe the name of the General Counsel at Tivo is Matt Zinn and I have always found him very helpful. If I can be of any further assistance please let me know.
